OUR MISSION

New Mexico Interfaith Power & Light (NMIPL) mobilizes an active response from faith communities to the reality of global warming by promoting energy conservation, energy efficiency and renewable energy in our personal lives and those of our congregations.

MEMBERSHIP COVENANT

We support the mission of New Mexico Interfaith Power & Light and pledge to do one or more of the following:

- Educate our members about environmental stewardship and the relationship of energy production and usage to global warming;
- Conduct an energy audit of our buildings to identify sources of energy waste and the potential financial savings of energy-related improvements;
- Make energy efficiency improvements to our buildings and encourage our members to do likewise in their homes and places of work;
- Utilize renewable energy by purchasing green power and/or installing solar panels;
- Analyze, reduce and offset our greenhouse gas emissions with the goal of becoming carbon-neutral;
- Support public policies that reduce global warming.

NMIPL membership is faith in action!

New Mexico Interfaith Power & Light (NMIPL) is one of twenty-three state affiliates of the growing national Interfaith Power and Light movement launched in California in 1999 to assist faith communities in moving toward better energy stewardship.

New Mexico Interfaith Power & Light (NMIPL) helps congregations put their faith into action by improving energy efficiency in their houses of worship, providing energy stewardship education to their members, and advocating for energy policies that reduce the threat of global warming.

Benefits of NMIPL membership include access to a variety of educational materials, the opportunity to network with other faith communities committed to environmental stewardship, and the possibility of qualifying for grants that fund the transition to energy-saving policies and practices.

New NMIPL members will receive a copy of the The Low Carbon Diet, a feature film called "Renewal," and a twenty-minute DVD entitled "Lighten Up!"
